Michael Jackson World Tour '88 Dressing Room Sign: "MJJ"

Original, unused dressing room signs that were used for the Bad Tour. These glossy cardboard signs have an adhesive backing that was affixed to the door, and then ripped off and thrown away after each venue was moved. This "MJJ" sign was for Michael's personal dressing room.

Each sign is 7"x11", made of heavy glossy paper and is colored from top to bottom with streaks of black, blue, white, purple, red, and yellow. On the top of each sign is a large "Tippy toes" logo and reads "Michael Jackson World Tour '88," with "Pepsi" on the bottom. The different rooms are labeled boldly across the large red streak in black lettering.
