

Adding is too complicated!

There are hundreds of sections and they need to be divided much better! I wasn't able to find the 7" Promo Single section. After 5 minutes I gave up. :(

Normally I'm not so stupid but in this case, too much for me!

Could you please rework the "Add Item(s)" section?

Would be way easier if it were build like the "Search by category" section.

For example:

1. Records > click >

Next choice: 7 Inch Singles - 12 Inch Singles - LP Albums

7 Inch Singles > click >

Next choice: Commercial - Promotional

Promotional > click > etc.

Hi: Thanks for the feedback. I can look into this, but overall I think your suggestion will make it more cumbersome, since it will add so many additional steps to adding an item.

The records are divided into 7"/12"/LPs and then they are further divided into Commercial and Promotional. So all of the 7" promos would be located under Records/7" Singles/Promotional, which you can find here:

I know where I can find those who are already in the database. To find the 7" slot at your adding screen was the problem for me.

To have the same procedure as on the "Search Category" by adding an item would be great and much easier than such a long list where every section is showing up at the same time. You know what I mean?

That's very confusing.

I think, you should keep it as simple as possible. To get a lot more adds here.
