YeahBaby God Bless The Jacksons concert was great, doin all there old stuff and tricks all the way in for one 1hr 50min long-strike trip down memorie laine of there old classic hits together with some of there brother Michael songs & a few Jermaine solo ones, for there medley the broad some flashback photos on-screened that never had been seen before, and the made the medley with not there normally 3 songs but have 4 included...

After the concert they went out in to there bussed to drow away, but some few fans myself incl. were still back and they get hands on some photos and autographes, before the left the country...

So all in all if your a fan of Michael Jackson and the Jacksons Brothers and have chances to get tickets, you must don't miss your way to be there for a over-all great music concert...

LONG LIVE THE REST OF THE JACKSONS BROTHERS :bow

Cool story, thank you for sharing. Did you have the chance to get a photo with the brothers? Or talk a bit to them?

I really can't stand them. After 2009, they're taking their piece of the cake, as everyone else.

Then Jermaine who spread crap on Michael for years and doesn't miss a chance to do it nowadays too, sings Michael's songs and sorry but for me it's unacceptable and a real shame.

:dance Yeah I got a chance to talk to the brothers specially Jermaine and Tito, but without no photos taken... When we were waiting at there tour-buss after the concert, the dore get open sometimes when the get delivered foot, at the last time i took the chance and throw a cd-cover for the Rare Pearls Limited

Jackson 5 Box-set and the doors were closet again, after 5 min they left the arena, when the got to stop for red light little later, the door went open again and my thing were throwed out on the street ... with a signature on the frontcover but i don't know which of the Jacksons who had written on it, while i cant see it on the hand-writing... I also get the signature for the drummer (MJs old personally drummer he used for the Dangerous And Hiostory tours) and the guitarist who played with Janet too...

So all in all it was just a great evening, not totally amazing, while i don't get any pictures with them... :no2

- To Laura, yeah I am 80% agree with you, for this tour it seems like they are just doin't it for the money the are needing this days, and yes it listen a bit faked out when Jermaine sings the old Michael songs... I have some videos from the concert I will put up on my blog-site with the merchandise a little later, there U can see for your self what you think of Jermaines voice :headphones
