Who is going to buy these? :moonwalk

Release date: April 2011

Fans of the late Michael Jackson will want to collect the Michael Jackson Collector's Figures as the memorable musician is brought to life as the "Beat It MJ" or the "First Moonwalk Michael." Each 10-inch collectible replica, with a Jackson Estate-approved likeness of the iconic singer, has 37 points of articulation and replica fabric clothing, and comes with a figure stand, a unique base, and collectible diorama packaging.

They are a nice alternative if you don't have enough money for hot toys.

I think it's a pity everyone only focusses on MJ in the 80s. I would love to see and have some from the HIStory or Off The Wall era.

Yeah, I agree. I would love to see a Hot Toys from Dangerous/HIStory Era, other then the live Billie Jean one, which is not the best HT has done so far, in my opinion...

Now imagine how awesome a TDCAU Brazil version HT doll would be! YeahBaby *sighs*

The good news is that it is not so expensive like hot toys figures. But they are not so good looking like them..

A HIStory era doll would be awesome, especially if Playmates did one. I love the Hot Toys, and one day I hope I can get one, but I can't afford them right now.

I have the Thriller and Billie Jean Playmate dolls. They both look much better in person than they usually do in pictures. I might be tempted to get the Beat It version just for the outfit if I can catch it on sale (like I did with my other ones :hehe ).

Beat It Doll came out and you can find it at Bravado Official MJ site, while for Motown's one we have to wait for some more months since production has been delayed.
