

New Member from UK - Sell/Trade Collection

Hi There

Am fairly new on this site and have been a collector of Michael's since a very young age, am now 33, and just like you all he was and still is my idol.

I have a fairly decent collection of his stuff, including dolls and more box sets which are in storage at the moment;

I would like to share some of my collection with you, and I am very sad to say some of I am also thinking of selling due to financial needs and owning a new home :(

It breaks my heart to want to get rid of any of my stuff, and have thought about eBay or Amazon, but would rather the items go to a genuine Michael Jackson fan who will appreciate and look after the item and treasure it for a long time to come.

One of my rarest items is a book by C. Mecca called Michael Jackson: American Master - I am willing to sell this item to decent offers - I have hunted all over the net and it seems to be untraceable to buy nowadays. I paid £95.00 for it when it first came out.

The only place I have seen it is on Amazon, at the crazy price of £648.19 obviously I know it is extremely collectible and if anyone out there is looking for this perhaps we can negotiate a price on this. Please feel free to browse through my collection and if there's anything that catches your eye; please feel free to contact me - but please note: not all of it am I willing to sell :)
