

Where can you get a Michael singing doll repaired?

Hi!

I changed the batteries in my Michael BOW singing doll, the song played through once and has not played again since. Pressing the play button has absolutely no effect. The batteries are good and are inserted correctly. I have been advised that the doll possibly has a short or that something may be wrong with the play button. :boohoo

I do hope that someone here might have an idea as to where I might get the doll checked out and repaired or at least an idea as to what kind of repair shop would do this type of thing. I have not had any success with jewelers, music box sources, electronic repairs or doll repairs. :dontknow

I would greatly appreciate any and all suggestions.

Thank you and keep Michaeling! :)
