MJ Official Men's Clothing Line A-type Jacket (Japan)

in 2003 , a Japanese clothing company has signed an agreement to sell suits and other attire inspired by Michael Jackson.

A spokesman for the Wakita company says the outfits won't be as wild as those Jackson wears on stage because they have to sell to "regular people." He adds, "No glove either." The suits and jackets, to be sold across Japan, will carry the Michael Jackson brand. Photos of the singer also will be used in marketing the brand.
